

Boggo Road Busway

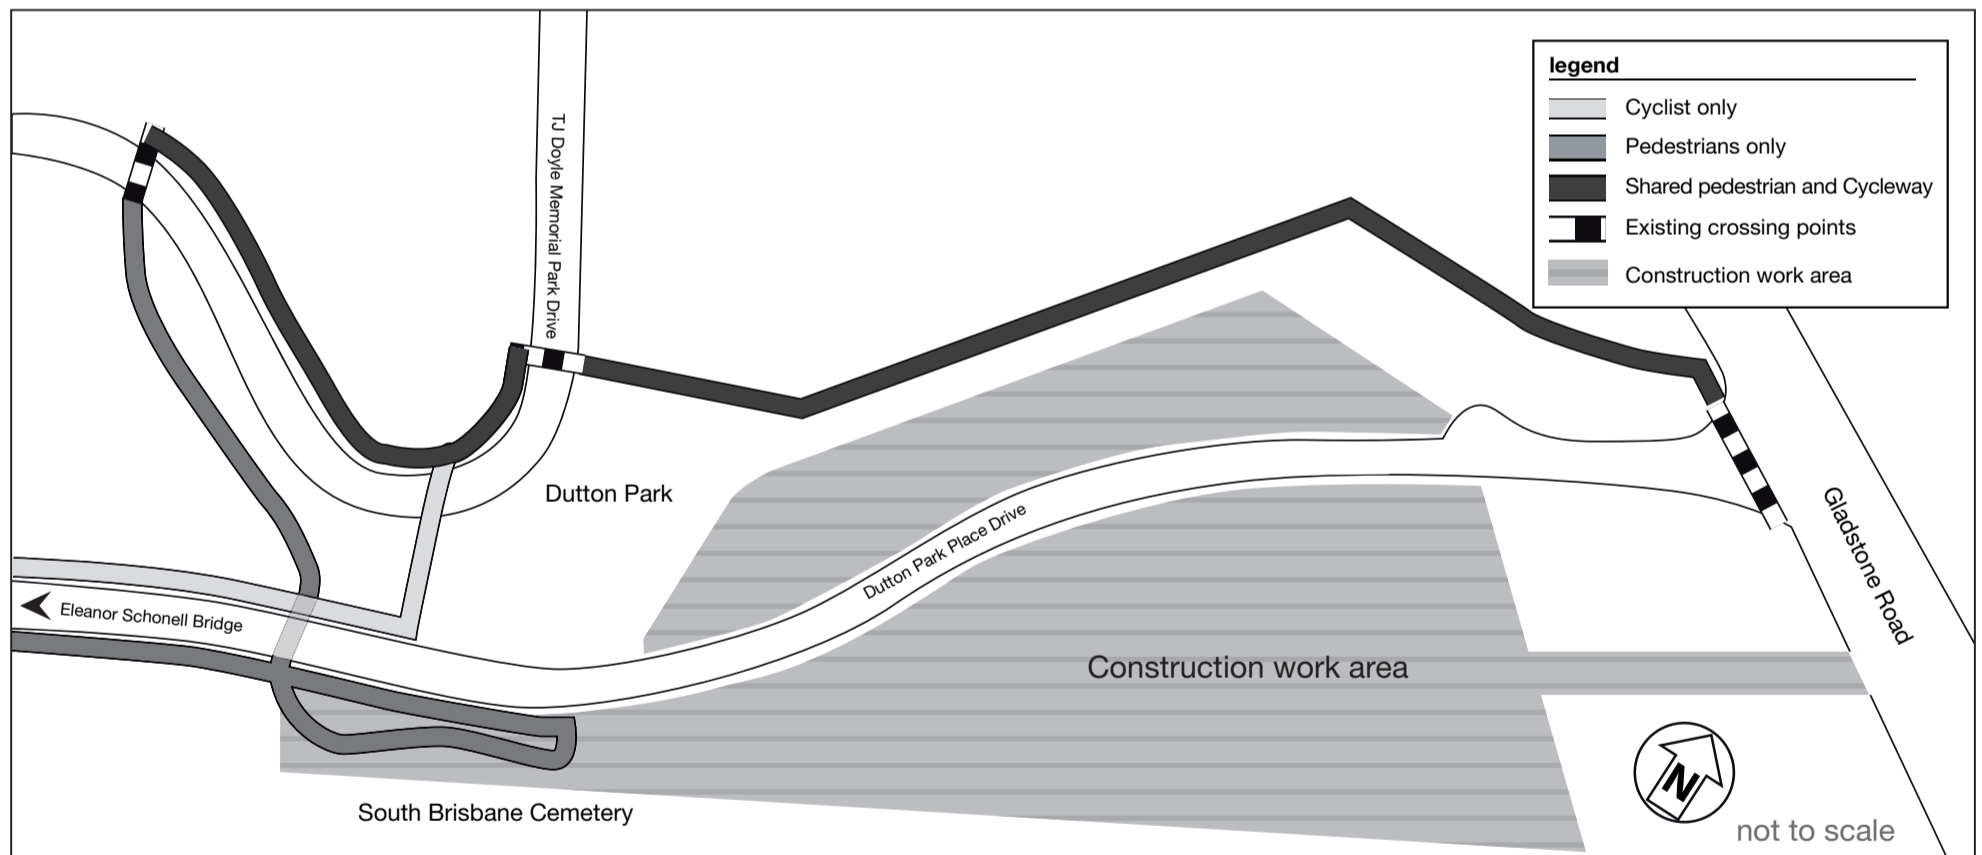

information notice

Cycleway across the Eleanor Schonell Bridge reopened

Construction of the Queensland Government's $226m Boggo Road Busway is progressing. We will achieve a small milestone with the reopening of the cycleway across the Eleanor Schonell Bridge on 1 September 2008.

Currently there is a shared pathway across the bridge for cyclists and pedestrians. The reopening of the cycleway will provide separate pathways for cyclists and pedestrians.

Please note: The path through Dutton Park from Gladstone Road to the Eleanor Schonell Bridge will remain a shared pathway for pedestrians and cyclists, until the completion of the entire cycleway in late November. Please be mindful of other pathway users.
